

Field Trip to Nam Chung – Luk Keng

Date: 12 Apr 2015 (Sun)

Assembly Time: 9:30 am (sharp)

Assembly Point: Green mini bus terminus off Fanling MTR station (Exit C)

Hike Distance: about 10 km

Estimated Time of Arrival: 4:00pm (Luk Keng minibus terminus)

Rating: Moderate to Difficult

Trip Leader: Leung Kar Fai

About the trip

The group will hike from Nam Chung (Tin Hau Temple) to the stream of Ping Nam (屏南石澗) that offers a wide range of spectacular geological features along its course. We will first hike upstream following the Nam Chung Country Trail, visiting structurally-controlled landform and a number of field-scale geological structures such as displaced pebbles and quartz veins. We will further ascend and pass through a number of waterfalls along the stream. Potholes of varying sizes are common. The sedimentary sequence there is classified as the Cretaceous Pat Sing Leng Formation (八仙嶺組). The group will further hike up to Lo lung Tin and then descend along another stream, known as Ping Ka Stream (屏嘉石澗), to Luk Keng (鹿頸) where we will take the public transport to return to Fanling.

For registration, Please fill out the form in the link below.

<http://goo.gl/forms/mm2vY2WEyt>